

Dicarlo: Buffalos First Family of Crime - Vol. I

Volume I. DiCarlo: Buffalos First Family of Crime is the historical biography of Mafioso Joseph J. DiCarlo, once known as the Al Capone of Buffalo and as western New Yorks Public Enemy No. 1. Son of the regions first known Sicilian underworld boss, DiCarlo was rejected as heir to his fathers criminal empire. After spending troubled years as a vassal of the influential Stefano Magaddino, DiCarlo and his underlings wandered, seeking their fortunes in Youngstown, Ohio, and Miami Beach, Florida, before returning home to witness the bloody disintegration of western New Yorks Mafia organization. The authors utilize DiCarlos colorful and violent life story as a window into the history of the powerful Magaddino Crime Family and the American Mafia network, while chronicling the parallels between the life of DiCarlo and the history of the criminal organization that was founded by his father. This is, truly, the definitive piece about the Buffalo Mafia. - Lee Coppola, award-winning Buffalo journalist.
