

Grigors Obsession - The Screenplay

Matt Oberon's 90-minute screenplay is based on the novella Delusion by author, Derek Thomas. The story is set in the present, but the dark past of Russia still lingers after perestroika. Grigor Sidorov is a young Russian fine artist who works for the State in the restoration of Russia's art and architectural treasures. Grigor deludes himself that he alone has inherited the burden of the loss of the family's dignity, the blurring of their lineage back to the time of Tzar Peter the Great, and the dispossession of their wealth by the Bolsheviks. In the Peterhof Palace in St Petersburg, the 18th C paintings by a famous Italian artist, Pietro Rotari, provide a compelling link with his family's claims of their noble descendancy. In Grigor's obsession to own the Rotari paintings by making perfect copies he risks all, but fails in the attempt. He becomes a fugitive from the State art police. His co-worker Lara, who works at the Palace and falls in love with him, realises that his mental stability depends on him owning the original paintings and devises a plan, that conceals the truth from Grigor and the State.
