

When We Were Kids

When I first decided to compile a Chronicle of Pittsburghs Children personalities of the fifties and sixties, I looked forward to a fun time of assembling and putting in order all materials supplied from those who are included in the publication my search soon turned into frustration and disappointment. I discovered that TV stations decided that space was more important than TV History--I learned that thousands of photographs were trashed and tossed into dumpsters because stations needed space.I have often been asked why the stations didnt replay some of the old shows on the air. Adventure time with Paul Shannon, Funsvilleor Popeye and Knish, or Happys Party.How about episodes of Ricki& Copper or Junior High Quiz.Fat Chance !Because, the stations dumped the tapes and films of those programs,They got discarded -destroyed- thrown away, trashed! Stations dumped TV history because they said they said they needed the space. Some shows were on two inch Ampex tape, that took a lot of shelf space . and the machines to play those tapes were also discarded because they became obsolete. Today, You can get hours of information on a CD that you could stuff in your back pocket ..Those pinheads running TV didnt have the sense to save and store history,. How simple it would be to edit and broadcast again.Those shows made Thousands of dollars in sales for the stations, And could do it again . Simple editing of old shows would be a delight and so simple;TV Land re-runs such shows as Redd Fox, All in the family, and other popular shows.Rifleman, Bonanza Little house on the prairie.Wonder how those shows are stored..?.Many of the included photos of Childrens TV personalities of were supplied by the people themselves from their own personal files and scrapbooks. Personal gratitude goes to Jean Connelly, Don Riggs, Ricki Wertz, and

David Newell of Family Communications at WQED-TV, also Delores Ellenberg of the Carnegie Museum of Pittsburgh. their sea
