

La Vita Canina: Going to the Dog in the Green Heart of Italy (The Dog Life Book 1)

My creative non-fiction book, La Vita Canina (The Dog Life) combines increasingly popular dog narrative with the likewise popular how I came to live in Italy narratives. It involves how a woman's (my!) fascination with a rare breed of kanichen wire-haired dachshund led to the kismet of finding her life in a small Umbrian hill town. In my story, however, there is no villa to fix up nor sudden boon of money nor happily-ever-after success story about a dream come true. Instead, my protagonist finds herself literally going to the dogs as she falls in love with a particular puppy on a day's scenic walk, only to find herself seduced into a bizarre world of dog-breeding, dog-breeders and the endearing dog-creatures that inhabit the lives of her Italian friends. In this surreal atmosphere, her American and personal values, as well as everything she thought she wanted out of life, are dramatically challenged.
