

One Badge Alone: Tales of an Alaskan Bush Cop

Alaska, the last frontier. I was met with phone calls saying get out of town or youre dead. I was shot at the second night brown bears came into the village, Im one of the few people that has stood nose to nose with a huge brown bear and lived. I was the only law for a hundred plus miles, there was no Jail, no police radio, and most of all no backup. The only way in or out of the village was by plane or boat. I have a saying, You stand your ground and you dont back down, if you do theres no need to stay around, Just get on a plane and get the hell out of town.
