

Thieves, Con Men & Murderers: A Unique & Exciting Collection of 11 of the Most Bizarre True Crime Stories Each of Which Would Make a Sensational Movie (Volume 1)

THE PRISONER NOBODY WANTED! It all started in Wynne, Arkansas. Judge Harold Casoaer stared sternly at the lovely young defendant: Blanche Palmer, you stand convicted of the murder of your common-law husband, Charles Turain. Therefore it is the judgment of this court that you serve the next 21 years in the Arkansas State Penitentiary at Little Rock. Two days later, Sheriff E. L. Cooper and his comely prisoner arrived in Little Rock. They were met at the railroad station by Arkansas Gazette reporter Joe Wirges who drove them to the prison. The guard at the penitentiary gate carefully checked the court order handed him by Sheriff Cooper. Im sorry, he said, but I cant accept this prisoner. What do you mean you cant accept her! Why not? Because, sir, this is a prison for men only. She has to be taken to the State Farm at Jacksonville. The Sheriff was getting angry. I dont care where she should go, he snapped. The courts commitment order says the Arkansas State Penitentiary at Little Rock. Ive brought her here and heres where I leave her! The guard shrugged and slammed the barred gate in Coopers face. By now thoroughly frustrated, the Sheriff shouted: Okay. Shes out here! Ive fulfilled my obligation. Shes all yours! He promptly removed the handcuffs from the wrists of his bewildered prisoner. Whatll I do now? the woman asked with an ambivalent voice. I dont care what you do, madam. They evidently dont want you in this prison. Do as you damn well please! She glanced at Wirges and asked: Would you please drive me back to the station? Of course, he responded, hop in. Blanche Palmer wasted no time getting in his automobile. A train was scheduled to depart soon after they arrived. Looking as radiant as would any woman from whom 21 years had just dropped, the one-time prisoner waved happily as the train left the station. That was on September 13, 1923. Blanche Palmer was never seen or heard from again. This is what Thieves, Con Men, & Murderers is all about. There are true stories about obscure unsolved murders and robberies.
